Dying Winter, Infant Spring Waging Battle

By United Press

Infant spring and dying winter today waged a battle for supremacy amidst tornadoes, thunderstorms, roll clouds and floods.

Tornadoes and high winds, set off by a clash of unseasonably cold air from the north with warm air from the southwest, skipped across the midwest from Oklahoma to Illinois.

They injured at least six persons and caused considerable property damage.

The dust stopped blowing in the Texas panhandle after nightfall. A tornado hit near Tulsa last night. One man was injured and one plane destroyed when a twister struck the Harvey Young airport eight miles east of Tulsa. The tornado spared the hanger and 20 planes inside it.

A "roll cloud" described by weather observers as an intense windstorm traveling horizontally, swept through Valley Par, Mo., and Alton and Bethalto, Ill.

A cold front dipped deep into the southern plains today, carrying freezing temperatures as far south as Oklahoma. The cold tangled with a warm air mass which had sent the mercury up to 90 degrees, a new all-time high for April 3, at Wichita Falls, Tex.

Rain lashed the midwest and northeast from Arkansas east to New York, and snow fell in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and parts of northern Illinois and Missouri. The snow ranged up to five inches in depth at Winterset, Ia.

Flood waters were on the rise in Minnesota and the Dakotas. An estimated 80 families fled to higher ground when the Red river of the north overflowed into Moorhead, Minn., and 20 families were driven from their homes by rampaging spring creek at Herreid, S. D.

U. S. Payroll Is Target for Economy Axe

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—The government payroll, carrying an estimated 2,000,000 names, shaped up today as the main target of a Republican budget cutting drive in the house.

Approximately $7,000,000,000 in an omnibus $29,045,030,164 appropriation bill now before the house represents payroll costs, according to Republicans. They say it can be cut about $1,000,000,000.

Representative Taber, New York, leader of the house Republican "economy bloc," disclosed the GOP goal yesterday as the house opened debate on the big bill financing more than 40 federal agencies for the fiscal year 1951, which begins July 1.

Reductions in personnel are only one of his objectives, Taber said, for he argued the bill is "too liberal" and can stand cuts throughout.

Some Republicans are backing an amendment that would order a 10 per cent reduction in planned government personnel strength for the new fiscal year.

Although the house appropriations committee already has lopped $1,567,000,000 from the totals requested by the President, Taber said committee reductions "have not been as deep as I'd like to see and they haven't been as general as I'd like to see."

Military's Budget to Get Study

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—The defense department today ordered new studies of its $13,911,127,000 budget to determine whether more money should be asked for air force and naval planes.

Secretary Johnson said he has asked the joint chiefs of staff to re-examine the question.

Funds May Cover

He told a news conference he believes all of the military forces and equipment recommended by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower can be obtained within the present budget.

But Johnson said if the joint chiefs recommend more money for modernized aircraft he will ask President Truman and the budget bureau for the funds.

Eisenhower, former army chief of staff and now president of Columbia university, said last week that he thought an increase of $500,000,000 "at the outside" should be made in the President's defense budget.

Testifying before a senate appropriations subcommittee, Eisenhower recommended particularly the strengthening of Alaska's defenses and more modern planes for the air force and the navy.

The committee had called him before it because he had said in a New York speech that he feared defense spending was being cut too heavily.

Since Eisenhower gave his views, there has been a strong movement in congress for more funds for the armed services.

Representative Vinson, D., Ga., chairman of the house armed services committee, has called for $583,280,311 more for warplanes to help meet what he called the threat of an "atomic blitz."

Protesting that the administration's $13,911,127,000 military program "will wither American air power on the vine," Vinson urged instead that air strength be boosted promptly.

Vinson said in a speech prepared for house delivery that the President's budget for the fiscal year beginning in July does not assure adequate defense at a time when "the atomic blitz of tomorrow is a real, a genuine possibility."

Gateway Opening Would Cut 5,000 Men, U. P. Claims

BOISE, April 4 (UP)—A key official of the Union Pacific railroad told the interstate commerce commission today that opening of the Ogden rail freight gateway would force a reduction of 5,000 employes of the line.

Earlier, A. D. Hanson, Omaha, general superintendent of transportation, testified the carrier would suffer serious revenue losses affecting service on the entire line should the ICC allow the Denver and Rio Grande Western's petition to open the gateway.

He said if the D and RGW should win its fight, it would "necessitate the employment of several thousand additional employes on the Rio Grande and the loss of this amount of traffic by the Union Pacific railroad would result in the reduction of some 5,000 employes."

Hanson outlined at length the services performed and the various car capacities of the UP.

In his two hours on the stand, Hanson sought to refute testimony of certain witnesses who appeared earlier in Salt Lake City in behalf of the D & RGW.

The fourth UP witness since the line opened its case yesterday before ICC Examiner Frank E. Mullen, Hansen read from an 84-page prepared statement. He said if the gateway were opened, the UP still would have to assume the expense of gathering freight along its various branch and main lines in the Pacific northwest.

"If we are to get only the short haul from Pocatello to Ogden as against our present haul from Pocatello to Missouri river connections at Council Bluffs and Kans [redacted] or to connections at Denver southwest territory, curtail service must necessarily follow, to offset the loss in revenue."

The D. & RGW seeks through rates on freight originating on the Union Pacific line north of Ogden. Such rates are not available now. The UP contends the gateway should remain closed to protect its shipments along the entire length of its lines from the Pacific northwest to the Missouri river and to Denver by way of Cheyenne.

Russia Using Nazi Tactics, McCloy Says

LONDON, April 4 (UP) — U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy accused Russia tonight of using nazi methods to "subjugate Germany into vassalage" and called for a united western Europe, including Germany, to thwart the Soviet scheme.

McCloy spoke to the Pilgrims society at a dinner. His speech amplified the policies with regard to Germany which he voiced recently after conferences in Washington.

The high commissioner did not rule out the recreation of a German war machine at some future time. But he said the allies would keep up effective controls until "progressive forces have strongly established themselves in the political and economic life of Germany."

The western powers will stay in Berlin despite all Soviet efforts to oust them, McCloy said. But that, plus restraints on Germany again rising to menace her neighbors, he said, was "only half the remedy."

"The other half must be a united Europe of which Germany must be a part," he said.

He said any discussion of Germany had to take into consideration the split between Russia and her wartime allies.

"Each year the kremlin has sought to widen the gap between east and west," he said.

Navy Believes Foreign Subs Are Off Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4 (AP)—The navy says foreign submarines "very probably" have been operating off the California coast. [redacted] that could hav since the strange submarines were in international waters.

Capt. J. A. Holbrook, commander of the destroyer Colahan, returned yesterday from the search and reported having made contact twice through radar and sonar with objects he believed were submarines. Holbrook is a former submarine officer.

"Routine Patrols"

After evaluating the captain's report, Rear Adm. R. I. Entwistle, vice commander of the western sea frontier, said the contacts made "very probably . . . were one or more submarines on routine peacetime patrols."

At no time during the search was any submarine sighted, either by surface craft or from the air.

Investigation Continues

Although investigation of several reports of submarines having been sighted is continuing, the WSF said search was being suspended "pending further developments."

With possibly one exception, all the submarines reported sighted have been well beyond the three-mile limit. Ships of any nationality—warships as well as merchantmen—may operate freely beyond territorial waters.

Guilt Covers All 3 Counts, Jurors Rule

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4 (UP)—Harry Bridges, boss of 75,000 west coast longshoremen, was convicted today of perjury and conspiracy for swearing he was not and never had been a communist.

A jury of eight men and four women found Bridges guilty after a stormy trial which lasted more than four months. The jury deliberated 31 hours.

Conviction carries a maximum prison term of seven years, plus a fine of $15,000 and paves the way for the government to press action to deport the CIO Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union president.

The jury, which had deliberated through 4½ days to cap an 81-day trial, entered the courtroom of Federal Judge George B. Harris at 11:53 a.m. (PST).

3 Charges Cited

Bridges and his two co-defendants were convicted on all three counts in the federal grand jury indictment. The co-defendants were J. R. Robertson and Henry Schmidt, fellow officers of Bridges in the CIO Longshoremen's union.

Vincent Hallinan, attorney for Bridges, immediately announced the verdict would be appealed.

Conviction for the Australian-born 48-year-old labor leader, means he automatically will lose his citizenship and become, once again, an alien in the United States.

Deportation Hearing

The government, in order to deport him, will then have to hold a formal hearing before a trial ex- [redacted] But a high Australian official said today in Sydney, Australia, that Australia might refuse to accept him. This official said "I don't think we want him. He is America's baby."

Long Bitter Trial

Paramount issue in the long and bitterly fought trial was whether Bridges was and is a communist.

The government produced 10 witnesses, all self-confessed former communists, who put Bridges in the party from 1933 when he signed an application card and continuing through 1945 when he was natural-

'Red' Inquiry Is Stalemated On Files Plea

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP) — Senate investigators formally demanded today that Senator McCarthy, R., Wis., give them all his information and documents bearing on his charges that communists infest the state department.

From AP and UP Reports

WASHINGTON, April 4—The senate communist investigation headed for a possible stalemate today. Senator Connally, D., Tex., predicted the senate won't vote contempt citations for officials refusing access to secret loyalty files.

A senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating charges by Senator McCarthy, R., Wis., that the state department is harboring [redacted] ing a contempt, Connally told reporters he sees little chance of getting—to reverse President Truman's decision against opening the confidential files.

Without much hope of success, it sought means of forcing McCarthy to make available six documents he turned over to the FBI in connection with his charges that Owen Lattimore, writer on far eastern affairs, is a Soviet agent in the state department.

To Hear Lattimore

The subcommittee will give Lattimore, who already has called McCarthy's charges "an unmitigated lie," a chance to answer them formally in a hearing Thursday.

Connally said he doesn't believe the subcommittee, the full committee, which he heads, or the senate will vote to cite for contempt Secretary of State Acheson, Attorney General McGrath or Harry Mitchell, head of the civil service commission.

The three officials were instructed by President Truman not to let the subcommittee, headed by Senator Tydings, D., Md., look at secret loyal records.

Meanwhile senate Democrats politely, but firmly, brushed aside today a proposal to set up a bi-

Jaycees Elect Officer Panel, Hear Reports

Jack Threlkeld was elected president of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce, succeeding J. Hill, at a meeting Monday night in the Park hotel. Other new officers are Bob Wills, first vice president; Don Zuck, second vice president; Dick Snow, secretary, and Henry Wills, treasurer.

Also elected were four new directors, Gene Moretti, Addison Parker and Hill, for terms of two years each, and Victor Graybeal, for a one-year term. Hill was given a rising vote of thanks and long applause for his accomplishments of the past year.

City Manager Campaign

His annual report listed a wide variety of projects completed, with particular emphisis of the campaign for the change to the city manager form of government. Hill praised David Hilty for his efforts in this project which the Jaycees originated several years ago.

Also emphasized was Jaycee participation in last summer's "bean week," and Bill Martell announced the organization has set up a $150 scholarship fund for the "bean queen" to be chosen this summer.

Several Youth Projects

Youth projects included the Easter egg hunt, youth month which Hill termed a practical lesson in Americanism for high school and junior high school students, Halloween

Finletter Selected As Air Secretary

KEY WEST, Fla., April 4 (AP)—President Truman today named Thomas K. Finletter secretary of the air force.

A New Yorker, he is the author of the "Finletter report" on air policy and a former ECA chief in London.

He succeeds W. Stuart Symington, named last week as new chairman of the national security resources board.

Hog Prices Gain

CHICAGO, April 4 (UP)—Farmers pushed hog prices slightly higher today by reducing their shipments to market in the absence of price supports.

Only 52,000 hogs were placed on sale at the 12 major cornbelt markets, compared with more than 79,000 a week ago, before price supports lapsed.

$100,000 Apartment House and Plans for New Street Conflict

City commissioners Monday night withheld approval of a $100,000 building permit for construction of a 29-family apartment house on lot six of Hollohan addition. The permit was filed late Monday afternoon by H. A. Kohlruss of the Kohlruss Construction company.

Council action is based on a plan to extend Shoup avenue east to Martin street. The last 800 feet of the proposed road crosses lot six of Hollohan addition where Kohlruss, W. G. Swim and Dr. Herbert J. Schwartz intend to build the apartments.

All other property owners have granted right-of-way deeds but Kohlruss, Swim and Schwartz want $2,200 for the 30 by 300 foot strip across their lot. They claim they will be damaged to that amount if they have to move their proposed building site and purchase more land.

Swim and Kohlruss appeared before the council Monday to present their viewpoint. Over their protests, the commission tabled action on the permit request and promised a definite answer by the next meeting. Commissioners lined up solidly against paying the requested price.

An offer of $500 for the land earlier this week was rejected, according to Chairman R. J. Schwendiman.

Kohlruss and Swim offered to deduct $400 from the proposed price for the land. However, after the meeting, Commissioner Orval E. Chaney reported Kohlruss had called him withdrawing the offer.

During the meeting Kohlruss said if the $2,200 was not paid for the land the apartment project would "fall through." Swim said if the city institutes condemnation proceedings it will have to pay the assessed value of the land plus damages to the parties involved.

Swim added he believed a street would be a "disadvantage" to the new structure. He added the matter "should be brought to a head" and the city, contractors and property owners should "stop fencing."

Commissioner Grant said, "The city has no right to pay $1,800 for the property." Chaney told the contractors he believes they should have considered plans for the proposed street before laying out diagrams for the new building. The contractors countered that other builders have been fooled by rumors of streets that were never built.

Schwendiman said he hated to see open argument on the question and hoped something could be worked out without condemnation proceedings. Commissioner Arnold F Cross said the street was "essential" to give access to the new hospital but did not believe the city should pay the price asked.

Hazelton Man Given City Bus Franchise

Clint Watson, Hazelton, was granted permission to run city buses in Twin Falls beginning May 1 in city commission action Monday night. The commission passed a resolution authorizing the city to enter the franchises with Watson.

The franchise provides Watson will operate at least two buses with one running on a 30-minute schedule. The contract will run for 10 years from May 1. A total of one per cent of the income from the buses will be paid the city. Watson will furnish a $2,000 bond. Buses will operate from 6:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. every week day. Fares will be 10 cents for adults and five cents for children.

Watson said he intends to operate both buses at the same time on four routes covering the city. A reserve bus will stand by. All routes begin at the intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street.

One bus will leave the intersection and proceed southeast on Main avenue to Kimberly road, up Kimberly road one block to Ash street, north on Ash street to Ninth avenue east, right two blocks to Locust street and north on Locust to Addison avenue east and down to Five Points north then back Blue Lakes boulevard to Ninth avenue east

Guard Will Train At Valley Airbase

BOISE, April 4 (AP)—Plans for summer training at Mountain Home airbase by the Idaho national guard have been approved by the national guard bureau.

Brig.-Gen. John Walsh, Idaho adjutant, said training at the inactivated airbase will give mechanized and artillery units the use of the desert firing range. Some 2,000 men will take part in the summer training program.

School Election Is Set for May 5

An election to decide whether Three Creek and House Creek school districts should be reorganized into one class C district has been called for May 5 by the Twin Falls county commissioners.

In the House Creek district there are only five persons eligible to vote and three of these are on the election and school boards. Approximately 30 persons in the Three Creek district are eligible to vote.

Voting will take place at the schools between 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Navy Denies Reports "Saucers" Are Revolutionary New Naval Aircraft

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—The navy says, in comment on the latest flying saucer report: (1) It has not developed any pancake shaped jet planes and (2) it is not experimenting with any saucer-shaped missile.

In fact, the department reported through a spokesman, the nearest thing to a flying saucer it ever developed has not flown since 1947.

The spokesman was commenting last night on an article in U. S. News and World Report which said engineers have concluded that the oft-reported saucers are jet-powered planes of a new design developed by the navy. The magazine said the saucers may have sprung from experiments by Charles H. Zimmerman for the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

At Langley air force base in Virginia, Zimmerman said he worked on an experimental pancake-shaped model plane during the war—this was the one the navy said flew last in 1947—but he didn't regard it as a forerunner to the flying saucer.

To conclude that it was, he said, was "obviously the wrong conclusion."

NACA officials said the model Zimmerman developed later became a navy craft known as the XF5U, or "flying pancake." The navy said a full scale experimental model never got off the ground.

Radio Commentator Henry J. Taylor said last night many "flying saucers" really are U. S. controlled jet fighter planes.

On his ABC broadcast he referred to the XF5U. He called it a navy experimental fighter of "incredible speed." It looks and is shaped like a pancake, Taylor said.

He said a "saucer" seen over Montgomery, Ala., on July 24, 1948, by two Eastern Air Lines pilots, really was an experimental jet plane. In a broadcast from Dallas, Tex., last Monday, Taylor said he thinks there are other flying saucers controlled by the U. S.

He said they are of several types "but nobody is inside of them."

He said one was found on the ground in Texas.

where the bus will repeat the first of the route to the main intersection.

Route Outlined

The second bus will go northeast on Shoshone street to Blue Lakes boulevard north and out Blue Lakes to Filer avenue, then west to Monroe street, down to Shoup avenue, back to Blue Lakes and down Shoshone to the Main intersection.

The other route by the first bus will be up Main avenue north to Addison avenue west to Martin street and up Martin street to Filer avenue and east on Filer avenue to Washington street then back to the Main intersection.

Visits South Park

The second route by the other bus will go down Shoshone street to South Park avenue, up South Park avenue to Lois street and back to Highland avenue then to U. S. highway 93. The bus will proceed to the labor camp, returning over the same route.

Watson said he has not yet found garage space in Twin Falls but intends to soon. The buses he hopes to buy in Ogden, Utah, are the rear engine type that seat 24 persons. Watson hopes to run four buses eventually if the franchise pays off, he said Tuesday.

Change Requested

City Manager William R. Smith told commissions that representatives of the plumbers union had met with him requesting changes in the city plumbing ordinance.

A proposed ordinance was drawn up and copies sent to every plumber in Twin Falls for approval or suggestions. Smith furnished copies to the commissioners for study.

Amendment Approved

An amendment to the 1942 city code was approved. The 1942 code says ordinances will become effective within 10 days of their passage. The amendment provides ordinances are effective as soon as approved by the commission and published. Franchises are effective 30 days after approval while all other ordinances go into effect at once.

The city entered an agreement with the Jaycees and Coca-Cola company to install a soft drink vending machine in the building at the municipal swimming pool. Payment of $1 for each gallon of soft drinks sold would be made to the Jaycees. The company would maintain the machines and be responsible for them. Drinks would be served in paper cups instead of bottles.

The city granted the Jaycees the right to move the annual Easter egg hunt from Harmon park to the city park Saturday. Contestants will be supervised and a cleanup crew will go through the park after the hunt. The city granted $25 from the recreation fund to help stage the event.

Responsibility Delegated

The council decided to turn over approval of [illegible] Formerly [illegible] of the planning and zoning commission were appointed by Chairman Schwendiman and approved by the board. They are Paul Taber, sr., H. A. Elcock, E. W. McRoberts, Elwood Bobier, Ray J. Holmes and Frank L. Cook.

Building permits and license applications were approved. Monthly reports of the electrical and plumbing inspectors, weighmaster and police judge were read and approved.

Sentence Passed In Fraud Matter

Guy Southwick, 43, Yellow Pine, was sentenced to 30 days in the city jail and assessed $5.40 costs when he pleaded guilty in justice court Tuesday to obtaining labor and service under false pretenses.

He was arrested in Hollister at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The complaint against him was signed by Dean Meyers, wrecker driver for Union Motors.

Meyers claims Southwick asked him to drive the wrecker to Contact, Nev., Sunday afternoon to bring back a truck that had broken down there. Upon arriving at Contact, Meyers was unable to find the truck.

He claimed he drove 25 miles further toward Ely, Nev., when Southwick told him two men were hauling the truck from Ely to Contact. Meyers left Southwick in Contact and he allegedly hitchhiked to Hollister.

Jaycees Meet To Talk Plans For Activities

BURLEY, April 4—Twenty-five delegates of the fourth district of the Idaho Junior Chamber of Commerce gathered at the Burley mayor's chambers Sunday to plan state and national convention activities. Clubs at Twin Falls, Burley, Buhl and Albion were represented.

Under the leadership of LeRoy Kienzle, district vice president, delegates discussed plans for the state convention in McCall May 12 and 13. Kienzle urged local clubs to select good men for state office candidates at the convention. Plans also were made to help finance the Idaho booth at the national convention in Chicago in June.

In line with the Jaycee national project of introducing the public to the Hoover commission report for economy in government, Kienzle read a letter from Sen. Henry Dworshak praising the Idaho Jaycees for their work.

Fred Schafer, Nampa, state chairman on awards, discussed the submission of club scrapbooks and award entries to the state convention.

District Jay-C-ettes held their meetings at the 610 club under the direction of Mrs. Vern Craner, Buhl, district vice president.

Jaycees and Jay-C-ettes held a joint luncheon at the 610 club at noon. W. H. Foster, Burley attorney, spoke on the topic "We, the People," a discussion of the failure of the American public to take an active part in government and to exercise the right to vote.

The water content of snow on Henry's fork [illegible] end of March, according to Lynn Crandall, Snake river watermaster.

At snow stations which have drainage into Henry's fork, the water content is 137 per cent of normal for Valley View, 131 per cent of normal for Big Springs and 148 per cent of normal for Island Park.

At Camp creek, draining into Mud lake, the water content is 163 per cent of normal.

On both watersheds, the water content and snow depths are close to the values recorded at the same time in 1949.

Conservation Meet Held at Area College

(From Page One)

Anthony, Ricks college; Mark R. Kulp, Boise, state reclamation engineer, and G. W. Farrell, Boise national forest supervisor, College of Idaho.

Guest speakers were Laura Mae Bourg, SICE primary and first grade supervisor; Bluford F. Minor, Boise, curriculum director of the state board of education, and Dr. George P. Scholer, Twin Falls.

Reports Given

Miss Bourg reported on a meeting of the association for supervision and curriculum development, held in February at Denver, at which she represented SICE and the Idaho curriculum and textbook development committee of which she is a member.

Minor spoke on general plans for summer school workshops and suggested any material and committee felt should be in the courses should be presented to the curriculum committee.

Corrections Urged

Dr. Scholer described the importance of teachers recognizing physical disabilities which children develop from poorly arranged classroom facilities and urged corrections be made while the pupil is in the lower grades.

Following the welcome by Pres. R. H. Snyder, the morning was spent in hearing committee reports from:

The educational institutions committee, Throckmorton, Mrs. Simonsen, Jones and Minwegen.

Adult Education

The adult education committee, Paul Nash, Boise, assistant secretary of the Idaho Chamber of Commerce; Peterson and Farrell; Edward Woozley, Boise, state land commissioner, Kulp and Mrs. Soelberg.

Teacher contact committee, Minwegen and Mrs. Soelberg.

Guests included Harold Provancha, Lewiston, NICE instructor; Fair C. Griffin, Portland, head of the education and information division of the soil conservation service, and Luther Jones, Twin Falls, district conservationist.

George Cronkhite, SICE science department head, and his class attended part of the sessions.

Entertainment was provided by the high school quartet directed by Irene Holtzinger.

Pioneer Resident Dies in California

JEROME, April 4—Friends here have received word of the death of A. S. LaMonte, March 26, in a China Lake, Calif., hospital. Mr. LaMonte came to Filer in 1905 and farmed on the south side for a number of years.

He later moved to Jerome and farmed in the Canyonside area, following which he moved to Hailey and farmed the Rock Creek range. From Hailey he moved to California.

He is survived by his widow and one son LaVern LaMonte in California, and several grandchildren. [illegible] were held March 30 at Ventura, Calif.

Breakin Attempted

KIMBERLY, April 4—An attempted breakin at Hove's sporting goods store last week-end was reported today by Harold Hove, proprietor, who said two holes were broken in small windows.

Hove said the holes were broken in windows in an attempt to unlatch the windows. However, it appeared the intruder was scared away from the building. The building was not entered.

Letters in Funke Estate Requested

Joseph Funke, Jerome, filed a petition in probate court Monday for letters of administration in the estate of his mother, the late Mrs. Dora K. Funke. Mrs. Funke died March 23, 1950, according to the petition.

The estate consists of land south of Twin Falls valued at $5,000 and household furnishings estimated to be worth $500.

A hearing on the petition has been set for 10 a.m., April 14.

Other heirs listed in the petition are four sons, Irvin Funke, Bernard Funke, and Ralph Funke, all Twin Falls, and Vernon Funke, Bellflower, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Clara Menck and Mrs. Dorothy Davis, both Twin Falls, and James Funke Forrest and John Funke Forrest, both Bellflower, sons of Harry Funke Forrest, deceased son of Mrs. Funke.

Plead Innocent

BUHL, April 4—Allen Atkinson and Claude Barker, Twin Falls, each pleaded innocent of petty larceny, when arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace C. E. Rudy. Their bond was set at $250 each and they were remanded to the custody of the sheriff. The complaint was signed by Vaughn Shriver, who accuses them of stealing five cases of empty pop bottles.

partisan commission to investigate charges of pro-communism in the state department.

Democratic leaders said the proposal—made by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., R., Mass.—came too late. They said a senate foreign relations subcommittee established to make the investigation will have to finish the job.

As a counterproposal, some Democrats were debating a type of investigation unprecedented in congressional history. It would involve a complete check, as thorough as that made by the FBI, on every state department employe accused of disloyalty.

"It might take 50 agents running down the life histories of these people," one Democrat said. "But I believe that we can find that many trained former FBI men and it might be the solution to the problem."

Court Fight Over Land Moves Into Second Day Here

District court argument in a land dispute went into its second day Tuesday as three exhibits were admitted and three persons testified. Arthur E. Glander seeks full title to land northwest of Castleford. His sister, Gladys C. Glander, maintains she has a deed to half the land.

Tuesday the plaintiff entered two letters as exhibits and the defendant entered a judgment roll.

Gladys Glander resumed the stand for brief testimony. Court Clerk Helen Porterfield took the stand and swore the judgment roll was the type used in district court. E. L. Rayborn, former attorney for the defendant, was called by the defense. He denied ever being in the Glander home.

Following the recess Monday, Wallace W. Glander testified concerning the deed and E. E. Woodruff, Buhl, insurance agent, was called to explain an insurance policy owned by the father, the late John H. Glander.

A deposition from John H. Glander regarding the deed and heirship was read before court was recessed until 10 a. m., Tuesday.

Increase Reported In Navy Openings

An increasing number of openings in the navy for all men between the ages of 17 and 31 was announced Tuesday by TMC Robert Rose, Magic Valley navy recruiter.

He pointed out that men enlisting in the navy in a program other than the schooling program for high school graduates have the same opportunities as do those enlisting for special study. They receive an advantage of beginning work in a navy trade before the specialists complete their school and get the additional advantage of more travel and adventure.

Quiet

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N. Y., April 4 (U.P.)—Mrs. Marian Attfield, the first census taker to complete her rounds in Nassau county, returned to headquarters here yesterday and told officials:

"No one would talk."

She explained she found the Long Island area assigned to her contained nothing but a cemetery and an abandoned house.

Last Rites Honor Veteran at Burley

BURLEY, April 4—Funeral services for J. G. (Jack) Henwood were conducted Monday afternoon by the Burley post of Veterans of Foreign Wars, with Cary Hilling, commander, in charge.

Frank Haynes, chaplain, gave the prayer, and Al Thaxton, accompanied by Jay Barrus, sang a solo. Commander Hilling and Harry L. Harpster were speakers, and Hal Matthews, accompanied by Mrs. Matthews, sang "Sleep, Soldier Boy."

Others assisting with the military service at the McCulloch chapel were Ben Chanselor, Rupert, junior vice commander; Ray Stephenson, senior vice commander, and Harland Jensen, officer of the day.

Rosary was recited Sunday evening, and mass was celebrated Monday morning at the Church of the Little Flower by Father Francis O'Driscoll in charge. Pallbearers, all workers in the CAA with Mr. Henwood, were Louis Boldt, John Yasaitis, William L. Woodall, Wilson T. Boyd, George Baldwin and and William A. Bower.

The body was sent to Helena, Mont., for burial.

Prison Sentence Cut to 6 Months

A sentence of up to 14 years was commuted to six months in the county jail Monday for John Berreth, 23, charged with helping to steal two calves and eight chickens.

Berreth pleaded guilty to the chicken stealing charge when arraigned before District Judge Hales E. Lowe last Friday. After hearing Berreth's testimony in his own behalf Judge Lowe took the case under consideration, delaying the sentence until Monday afternoon.

Three other men arrested along with Berreth on the cattle theft charge were sentenced to up to 14 years in the penitentiary.

VANDENBERG RETIRING

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg's recent proposal for a nonpartisan commission to study foreign policy points up how sorely missed in the senate these days is the voice of the Republicans' leading foreign affairs spokesman. Not only his party but the whole country is the loser.

Presumably ill health will compel Vandenberg to keep to the sidelines most of the time from now until his term expires in 1952. He does not intend to run again.

There's no doubt Vandenberg is the man who made the bi-partisan foreign policy a working formula in congress. That service has been of inestimable value to the nation at a time in history when the United States needed to show a united front to a world plagued by communism.

Vandenberg was uniquely fitted for this role. He dedicated himself in recent years almost entirely to foreign issues. As a specialist he gained stature in the eyes of both parties. His remarks took on added weight because he was not constantly embroiled in the daily verbal brawling on domestic questions.

Strangely, too, his influence seemed the greater because he was an isolationist before he was an internationalist. His colleagues felt in him something of the fervor of the convert. His dramatic shift, made in response to the realities of atomic and guided missile warfare, was the real beginning of his leadership in the senate.

Within the senate Republican group there developed a sort of division of labor, Vandenberg carrying the burden in the foreign field and Senator Taft piloting domestic policy.

Though many of his colleagues didn't go the whole way toward sharing his internationalist views, the Michigan senator often was eloquent enough to persuade them to follow him on key matters like the Marshall plan and the foreign arms aid program.

Up to now no other senate Republican has showed similar power to command the support of his party colleagues for a broadly internationalist foreign program. The internationalists in both parties, who constitute an overwhelming majority in the senate, are regretful that no one is yet rising to take Vandenberg's place.

Hopes had once been pinned on Sen. John Foster Dulles, veteran of many an international parley, but his defeat in New York last fall dashed them.

Some talk of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts as a likely successor, but thus far he has not made great strides toward establishing himself as a foreign affairs leader.

It will be unfortunate if strong new leadership does not emerge to fill the gap Vandenberg is leaving. For the United States has not yet won the cold war. It still has great need of presenting to Europe and the rest of the world a single, determined front.

TOO MANY FUND DRIVES

Let's hope that the mayor's coordinating council, to which the problem has been referred by the Chamber of Commerce, will work out some method to consolidate all the many fund raising campaigns which are now being conducted independently.

When the Community Chest plan was adopted in Twin Falls a number of years ago it was for the express purpose of doing away with a lot of individual solicitations and all the duplication of effort they entailed.

It all worked out to the community's advantage until certain participating organizations started to drop out. Principal among those which have withdrawn from the Community Chest are the Red Cross and the Boy Scouts.

Altogether the Community Chest shows little resemblance to the organization as it was originally set up. Meantime other organizations dependent upon public solicitation for their funds have come into being. As a consequence it seems as if some campaign to raise money is going on in Twin Falls all the time, with each organization trying to raise the maximum of its own self-determined budget.

This tendency to draw away from the Community Chest plan has grown so general as to become a nuisance, not only from the standpoint of repeated solicitations, but as an imposition on those old "wheel-horses" who are repeatedly called upon to make the rounds in quest of funds.

As it is now set up, the Community Chest is really a misnomer because it includes only a small number of the organizations that conduct fund raising campaigns annually.

For that reason, it has become apparent that a complete reorganization is in order to bring as many separate drives as possible under one united fund-raising campaign.

CONFIDENT CAPERS

Spread across our newspapers recently was a picture of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia doing an election victory jig.

It is worth noting that this picture was taken BEFORE his country's balloting for a national parliament was completed.

Only in totalitarian nations like those behind the Iron Curtain is it possible to celebrate electoral triumphs before they are official. And it's not because anybody peeks at the ballots in advance, either.

That isn't necessary. In fact, neither are the ballots. For all practical purposes Tito could have done his jig a month ago.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—"Seeds of Treason," an inside story of the "Hiss-Chambers tragedy," constitutes a far more devastating indictment of communist infiltration and influence on American foreign policy during the war and postwar years than all the charges which foes of the Roosevelt-Truman administrations have voiced on and off capital hill for the past decade.

Ray Tucker

Although based on the trial and convictions of Alger Hiss, the volume contains documented material drawn from original research and hitherto unpublished. It is the product of two brilliant reporters and writers—Victor Lasky of the New York World-Telegram and Ralph de Toledano of Newsweek magazine. Readings of advanced copies has created a sensation at the capital, and has brought deep furrows to the brows of President Truman, Secretary Acheson and Democratic National Chairman William Boyle.

FACTUAL—It proves in factual form that a widespread group of once honored and prominent new deal officials, chiefly in the department of agriculture during Henry Wallace's regime, conspired to infiltrate pro-Moscow men into all branches of the government with the objective of influencing our foreign policy in favor of the kremlin.

It gives names, dates and facts of repeated warnings against the conspiracy that were "laughed off" by the late President Roosevelt, President Truman, Secretary Acheson, Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter and Warren Austin, United States delegate to the United Nations.

It also suggests that the famed FBI was asleep at the switch, delinquent or susceptible to political influence for its 10-year failure to uncover the cells and rings involved in this effort to weaken the United States vis-a-vis Russia.

WARE—The original Russian agent was Hale Ware, described as a "cross between a college professor and racetrack tout," but extremely able. He was the son of Ella Reeve Bloor, who is still known to communists everywhere as "Mother Bloor."

Oddly enough, Ware had been a $1-a-year man with agriculture from 1925 to 1932, making frequent trips to the Soviet to study their work in this field. But he did not dare to engage in pro-communist activity here until the Roosevelt administration's recognition of Russia in 1933.

Lee Pressman, then a lawyer at agriculture and later a CIO official during its communist-dominated period, is charged with mobilizing young dealers for Ware's purpose. Among the members named are Nathan Witt, John Abt (who subsequently married Ware's widow), Henry Collins, Charles Kramer, Alger Hiss and the late Harry Dexter White of the treasury.

IMPORTANT—Each of these individuals had an important part in framing of influencing domestic or foreign policy. Witt helped to write the original national labor relations act that gave such preponderant power to the leftist CIO, so much that the AFL entered official complaints. Abt was a key man at agriculture during the Wallace regime.

White wrote the Morgenthau plan for pastoralizing Germany, thus making both eastern and western zones susceptible to Russian conquest. Hiss' role is well known, but "Seeds of Treason" throws new light on his behind-the-scenes influence at Yalta, Dumbarton Oaks and at the San Francisco conference which organized the United Nations. All his advice favored Russia.

Incidentally, most of these men, in appearances before the house committee on un-American activities, have declined to admit that they knew each other on the ground that it "would incriminate and degrade them."

HISS—It was Pressman who got Alger Hiss named as legal counsel for the Nye committee that investigated American munitions makers of World war I. In describing Hiss' cross-examination of the du Ponts, Curtiss-Wright airplane officials, the house of Morgan and Bernard M. Baruch, newspaper reporters praised him highly.

He was depicted as a "verbal battering ram," whose surname, a "sinister, sibilant monosyllable," was an "echo from moist and somber Stygian darkness." Hiss tried to prove that America's leading financiers, manufacturers and allied interests had forced the U. S. into World war I simply for the sake of the profits there were in it. A noted editorial writer commented:

"The communists must have uttered a resounding whoop' . . . at the conclusion of the investigation of the Morgan firm by the Nye committee."

The chief exposer was Alger Hiss.

ESCALATOR—Hiss' next move on the Moscow-directed escalator was to the department justice. There, as aide to then Solicitor General Reed, (who appeared as a Hiss character witness in the first trial, but not in the second), he was extremely happy in preparing briefs defending the constitutionality of new deal legislation.

In fact, he wanted to decline an invitation to shift to state to frame briefs supporting the constitutionality of the trade agreements act. He was offered this job by former Assistant Secretary Francis B. Sayre, one of Hiss' law professors at Harvard, and son-in-law of Woodrow Wilson.

But Whittaker Chambers, then running the Soviet cell at Washington, ordered Hiss to change over to state because of the espionage opportunities it would offer.

Former Secretary Edward R. Stettinius, who was not too bright, fell for Hiss, and leaned on him at Yalta, Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco. It was at these conferences, as events have since demonstrated, that a United States which had sacrificed so to win the war lost the peace for which that war was fought.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

IT CAME ON TO RAIN

Now the nature, the palpability, the sympathy of the slow, warm rain were surely vernal as never before had the rain been since the snow went away. And in country and town, in forest and field, all living things, animate and inanimate, were as well aware of these compassionate, comforting qualities of the rain as was the farm boy who walked, halter in hand, toward the questioning horse in the lush meadow, where the golden skunk cabbages were exclamatory.

The redwings of the rushes were conversing in the gentleness, the gray clemency, of that springlike rain, and high in the nun-gray alder, flushed with rose, somewhere an unseen bird was singing the same dear phrase, over and over. This rain loved the waking world; it was better than sunshine; this rain was fondly vernal. The reiterant chorus of the frogs in the pasture pools, the praise of the frogs uplifted to the dark woman, was of such natural harmony that it merged and blended with the scene as with the farm boy's nameless thoughts. He must pause to listen in the clement rain before he would really be aware that the frogs were singing. There be certain rains, you conceive, which are enchanted and spell-woven. And this rain, so meditative, so softly stroking frond and leaf and cheek, and thus with all living things, animate or inanimate, was such a rain. These are not often, nor urgent, but who will say they are not memorable as any music? As any processional of gravely, gently beautiful prose?

The farm boy came then to the horse, and it glistened wetly. The horse was nothing loath, but nuzzled his outstretched hand with caressive fondness. He slipped the halter over the willing head, scarcely tossed, and mounted bareback from a stump in the meadow. Horse and boy went slowly over the pasture, splashing through the shining pools, silencing the joyous frogs that presently again praised life over and over, blending in sound that seemed silence. All that the farm boy knew was no more than all else knew, inanimate or animate life, in that gray, misty gentleness of rain. It was a different rain—an enchanted rain, itself an enchantment. And so it should be remembered when the farm boy was to grow gray, and far from there. So it should be remembered, a fragment; since of fragment our happiest memories are shaped ; out of vagueness and meadows, and gossiping redwings, and aught that the dark woman chooses.—Portland Oregonian.

POT SHOTS

TYPICAL

Dear Pots:

My youngster spotted an oversize balloon in a store and, of course, he got it. Then when we got outside in the gale of wind on the corner of Shoshone and Main, the wind nearly blew him and the balloon away.

While I was trying to hold them down, the wind tossed my hat out into traffic. Junior stood on the corner and grinned while I dodged traffic, holding that damm balloon in one hand and trying to get the hat with the other.

As if that wasn't enough, he let the air out of the balloon as soon as he got in the house—AND THEN asked me to blow it up again.

MORE ON MUGWUMPS

Howard Mathews over Rupert way gets downright technical on this Mugwump business without going into the various gags brought on by the name.

He points out the term originated back in 1884 in the campaign between James G. Blaine and Grover Cleveland for the presidency. A group of reformers of the GOP, he says, called themselves Mugwumps, Indian for "Big Chief." He says, the faction was led mostly by prominent citizens of New England. They called themselves Mugwumps because they thought themselves superior to other Republicans, he relates. They supported Cleveland, but mostly they opposed Blaine.

All of which might bring out a lot of dusty history books.

EUREKA!

Dear Mr. Shooter:

I seem to recall that you were looking for some easy way to kill quack grass last summer.

The current issue of one of my magazines includes the information that there is a new spray that will kill crab grass in much the same manner as that other stuff kills dandelions.

Is that the solution to your lazy man's prayer?

Always Reading
(Buhl)

It might be. Our good friends, Noah Webster, informs us that quack grass is actually "couch grass" and doesn't belong to the same family as crab grass. Could be your new-fangled spray will kill it though.

WICKED CIRCLE

Dear Shooter:

Noticed in my T-N the other day where the government intends to let support prices for hogs die.

Of course you can see what that will do to pork prices. Right off the bat, farmers will unload while prices are still up. Then they just won't raise any more hogs because the price won't be guaranteed. When they stop growing hogs, that will create a shortage of same, bringing the old law of supply and demand into operation. The ones who continue to raise hogs will get fancy prices for them.

This prospect of fancy profits will induce more farmers to raise more hogs, thus forcing the price down. The process will go on until the price of hogs becomes stabilized at some stage.

And pork will still be too costly.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

". . . One cigarette is as foul as another."

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

The question is not so much "will you come to whisky at our place?" as "Will you ever go home, or, anyhow, go away, and, if so, when?" We would like to have a rough idea because these things have been running into extra innings of late.

Westbrook Pegler

We would also like to know whether you have any capricious notions about beverages such as Bloody Marys and Black Velvet because we all are just plain, God-fearing, 'tater-hoein', whisky-drinkin', blue-jean Americans and if Old Fungus or Old Stepfather ain't good enough for you, well, stranger, we will bid you pass us by.

The way some folks been carrying on around here lately you got to be pharmaceutical to fix them a dram, what with the call for a dash of witch-hazel to neutralize the vodka and amphojel to cauterize the ulcers.

Yes, we will stake you to a martini if you are crazy enough to go against the devil's brew but if you think we are going to sneak Hilda out the back way and down to the store to get you imported gin you are crazy.

Where did you get your taste for imported gin? I remember when you whipped up your own in the kitchenette and it took the enamel off the sink and ate through your rubber gloves, but now you can't abide juniper water without it comes from the old world and they's a picture of London bridge on the label and the product has a jaundiced look.

Old Bathtub, that's what we serve. A fine, honest, nutritious gin. We grew up on it.

Look at the war generation of Americans, the magnificent men who fought the bloody-handed Hun and Jap, and the gallant, clear-eyed lassies who went to the brink of battle with them, for your testimonial to the health-giving, character-molding qualities of Old Bathtub, the all-American gin.

They were weaned on it. Their mothers made Bathtub long after American mothers had quit messing around with bread, and the Bairns, themselves, learned to sip and sample at the apron strings and remark, wisely, "Mama, a couple more drops of juniper."

This is not going to be a cocktail party, that we are giving. We are giving a whisky. From 5 until we can sort of maneuver the last old-time, second-string, all-tri-county fullback over toward the door and give him the quick heave and leave him demonstrating his specialty, the Pop Warner body-check, to some dame by the light of the silvery moon out on the sidewalk.

But don't come at 5. Don't ever come at 5, no matter what the invitations say. Come about a quarter of 6 or even half-past 6. At 5 she will still be zipping up and whipping around inspecting those green and red and striped goo propositions, on nasty little brittle crackers that are sure as hell going to break in half and drop smack on your new gray suit or your old lady's dress.

She will be spotting little plates of toasted almonds and great big stop-and-go olives and salted peanuts and anchovies coiled as their mortal agonies left them.

She will be making sure there is sherry for those babes who don't drink but sip a little sherry just to be in the spirit because the old man is going to get reeking and might punch her in the nose when they get home if she just sits there giving the party the snoot.

I think you should be told that there probably will be a couple of Democrats in the happy throng and possibly a couple of fellow-travelers who will say, well, after all, it was the trend of human progress and he—you know who—was just the instrument of fate and otherwise we might have had a bloody revolution.

But be refined, now. Act adult. This isn't Perle Mesta's. This is just a friendly pouring for intelligent people. Fighting is positively forbidden and, if at half-past 8, you start going around nagging people to play canasta and clearing old dead glasses and trays of butts off the card table, I am just going to conk you with a decanter from the antique auction with a silver necklace on it reading "bourbon" and never used except on such occasions, and then only to give you an impression that we dress for dinner every night and ring for Jarvis to bring the decanters and the syphon.

As soon as the last souse is out the door, or maybe even before, that decanter will be back in the prop-cupboard with the rest of the swank and that is the last time it will see light until we begin to feel again that we just have got to give one of those clean-ups to pay back for all the pourings we have been to.

You will have a rotten time. The house will be oversold at least 100 per cent. There will be chairs for no more than half, including those torture-racks that ordinarily stand against the wall for esthetic effect and the deep sofa where the casanovas start making with the mitts as soon as some good-looking number gets a notion that she will dare life and not flinch.

The numbers get better-looking by the minute, or by the drink, so, if this little drinking of ours runs true to form, no girl of whatever mold or age need go unpropositioned.

Your feet will hurt. Your legs will ache. You will call people by the wrong names.

Door-prizes, too. Capital prize for the first couple to leave and other prizes diminuendo for the next nine. Don't forget.

Chez nouz, fivish, on the sixth.

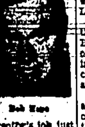
DETWEILER'S

BOB HOPE

A movie about a movie director.

Yes, sir, when Ida Lupino directs her new picture, "Nobody's Safe," they'll have a cameraman with a 16-mm. camera catching all her directorial movements. This short film will be used to publicize "Nobody's Safe."



Bob Hope

If all directors did this, it would be very interesting. Of course, it would be even more interesting if all the directors looked like Ida Lupino.

Naturally, this idea will make the director's job just that much harder. He'll have to see that the lights are right, check the camera, cue the actors and remember at all times not to smear his makeup.

Then some directors, like Alfred Hitchcock, have appeared in their own films. It is always easy to spot the director . . . he's the inconspicuous little man in the background, standing right in front of the leading lady.

But if this behind-the-scene trend develops we may see films about such studio people as hairdressers and wardrobe mistresses. In fact, the time may come when they'll resort to the ridiculous . . . showing actors.

Of course, the time I'll get sore is when they show you a movie of the two writers who are working on the screen play . . . and then charge you full admission for reading the script over their shoulders.

New Officers Draw Upon Past Leader

Setting their goal as the kind of leadership given Jaycees by Loyal I. Perry, past president and World war II naval victim, the organization's new officers look at his portrait. Left to right are Bob Wills, first vice president; J. Hill, outgoing president; Jack Threlkeld, president; Don Zuck, second vice president, pointing to the portrait, and Henry Wills, treasurer. Dick Snow, newly elected secretary, was unable to be present when the picture was taken. The late Mr. Perry gave the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce its slogan: "Service is the rent you pay for the space you occupy." Officers were elected Monday night at the Park hotel. Mrs. McLemore's Boy Henry Is Real Sucker for Any Vices

By HENRY McLEMORE

LONDON, England—I catch vices the way people do measles.

Just let me get exposed to any sort of little old vice, and I break out with it right away.

McLemore

Who would have thought when I walked into the London Press club (which, incidentally, is one of the toughest of all London clubs to belong to) that I would walk out a few hours later a confirmed and hardened snuff sniffer?

The other American newspapermen who were with me came out no worse than they went in. Those who smoked cigarettes hit Fleet street smoking cigarettes, and the same was true of the pipe and cigar smokers.

But not Mrs. McLemore's baldest and fattest son.

I had taken up snuffing, as snuff sniffing is known in England, and in a very serious manner.

My adoption of snuffing came about in this manner. I was having a pint of bitters in the Press club when I was introduced to Mr. H. O. Vickery, honorary treasurer of the club. As has been the custom when visiting England during its austerity days, I offered Mr. Vickery an American cigarette, which Englishmen usually are glad to accept, tobacco being short over here.

From the look on Mr. Vickery's face, I might just as well have offered him a dead mouse.

"Thanks, ol' chap," Mr. Vickery said to me, "but I gave up smoking years and years ago. Won't you have a pinch of snuff?" With that the honorary secretary produced a handsome silver snuff box, and explained that it had originally belonged to his great, great, great-grandfather.

"How do you go about this business?" I asked.

"Just watch me, and do the same," Mr. Vickery answered.

He very delicately held a pinch of snuff to each nostril and sniffed it.

He handed me the case and I did the same.

Not since the first buzz bomb landed in London has there been such an explosion. One after another great record-breaking sneezes shook my frame and the entire club. Members came in from the writing room to see what on earth was happening, and members laid down their cues at the snooker tables to dash in and see if war had broken out.

"That always happens to a novice snuffer," Mr. Vickery explained from the corner to which he had retracted. "Try it once more."

I took another pinch, and so help me I did not sneeze.

Right then and there I took up snuffing.

I asked Mr. Vickery where I could get a nice snuff box and he told me that old ones were very hard to find—that collectors snapped them up as soon as they turned up, usually in pawn shops.

But he told me where I could get a new one, and also told me of a snuff shop on Fleet street that is hundreds of years old and handles nothing but the finely ground up tobacco which is snuff. He explained that in the making of very fine snuff nothing is used but the highest grade of Havana tobacco.

So that was what I purchased: two ounces of Wilson's SP, the SP standing for Sheffield's Pride.

This is the third day on which I have been snuffing and I can't wait to get home and I let Jean know that I am a snuffer. Boys, there'll be the bad place (with fringe on top) to pay.

Easter Rites Schedule for Rupert Given

RUPERT, April 4—All Rupert churches are planning special Easter services.

Union sunrise services will be held at 6:30 a. m. in the city square, according to the Rev. William Pennell of the Rupert First Baptist church. The Rev. Mr. Pennell, who is head of the Rupert Ministerial association, states the half hour program will be held at the Christian church in case of inclement weather.

A hymn, "He Lives," will be led by the Rev. Carl Adams of the Pentecostal church, the invocation will be given by the Rev. James R. Crowe of the Methodist church, and an address, "The Cross—a Plus or a Minus," by the Rev. Phillip Daniels of the Nazarene church.

Cantata Planned

A cantata, "The Resurrection Song," will be directed by Mrs. Wandalee Dspain, a reading will be given by Dale Walker, the hymn, "Christ Arose," will be led by the Rev. Mr. Adams, and the Rev. D. G. Lewis of the Assembly of God church, will pronounce the benediction.

The Rev. Mr. Pennell announces a special communion service at 8 p. m. at the Baptist church.

The three wards of the LDS church each will hold an Easter program at 10:30 a. m. at their respective chapels.

Catholic Rites

The Rev. Father James Hallissey of the St. Nicholas Catholic church has announced high mass at 7:30 a. m. on Holy Thursday and a holy hour at 8 p. m. At 7:30 a. m. on Good Friday, mass of the pre-sanctified with veneration of the cross will be celebrated. Evening devotions at 8 p. m. will consist of rosary, sermons, and stations of the cross.

Beginning at 7:30 a. m. Holy Saturday morning, blessings of the Easter fire and Easter candle baptismal water with high mass at 9 a. m. Easter Sunday are announced. High mass will be celebrated at 8 a. m. and low mass at 10 a. m. The parish choir will sing at high mass.

Disease Free Spuds Shown By Light Test

A demonstration test of seed potatoes conducted Thursday at the Twin Falls county fairgrounds showed between 30 and 33 of the 44 samples tested were relatively free of disease, C. W. Daigh, county agent, announced today.

Daigh said the tests were conducted by R. D. Pelkey, University of Idaho extension potato specialist, as a demonstration to show the use of ultra violet light in disclosing diseases and bruises.

Results Later

However, definite results of the test are expected to show up when the seed crops tested are harvested.

Still in the experimental stages, no attempt is being made yet to use the test commercially to provide good seed potatoes to farmers who cannot get certified seed potatoes. According to Daigh, approximately one-third of the needed amount of certified seed potatoes is grown in the state.

The 44 samples tested were "first year out" potatoes—the harvest of certified seed potatoes. Daigh said nearly all of the potatoes showed some mosaic, a virus disease. A few had ring-rot and 13 showed some leaf roll.

Split Potatoes

Testing is done by splitting the potatoes and exposing them to the ultra violet light. Bruises and diseases then show up as different colors and the particular types of diseases can be determined.

While the use of certified seed potatoes grown under conditions which tend to eliminate the growth of disease is advised, Daigh pointed out that the ultra violet test may provide a commercially feasible method of providing seed potatoes which are relatively free from disease for farmers who are unable to obtain certified seed potatoes.

Marker to Be Laid for LDS Tots' Hospital

SALT LAKE CITY, April 4 (AP)—Laying of a cornerstone for a new children's hospital will feature the two-day conference of the Primary association of the LDS church opening here today.

The 44th annual primary conference will be followed by the church 120th annual general conference, which ends Sunday.

Departmental meetings were to be held today for the Primary association conclave.

Mrs. Adele Cannon Howells said representatives of the association's 20,000 adult workers attend. Apostle Harold B. Lee was scheduled to speak at the opening general session.

The Primary conference will conclude tomorrow at 4:45 p. m. with the laying of the cornerstone for a new hospital at 11th avenue and D street here. Church President George Albert Smith will speak.

President Smith also will be in charge of the church general conference, for which sessions are scheduled Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. The opening day is the 120th anniversary of the founding of the Church by Joseph Smith.

All general authorities of the church will speak on the conference program.

Wendell Child Is Claimed by Death

WENDELL, April 4—Verna Jean Lehmann, 7-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Lehmann, died at 4:50 a.m. Monday at St. Valentine's hospital.

Survivors, besides her parents, are her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Parr, Wendell, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Bessie E. Lehmann, Wendell.

Graveside services were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Wendell cemetery with the Rev. Charles Human, Castleford, officiating. Burial was made under direction of the Weaver mortuary.

Truckers End Bid For Hike in Rates

BOISE, April 4 (AP)—An application for a 15 per cent general intrastate increase by two motor tariff bureaus has been dropped, the Idaho public utilities commission said.

Juanita Yribar, PUC secretary, said the Rocky Mountain Motor Traffic bureau, Denver, and the Pacific Inland Tariff bureau, Portland, asked cancellation of a hearing set for April 17 on the application.

More than 50 motor carriers operating in the state are represented by the two tariff bureaus, the PUC said.

Borah Peace Meet Topics Are Unveiled

MOSCOW, April 4 (AP)—"As the cold war becomes hotter we must intensify our efforts to find better ways leading to permanent peace", said Dr. Boyd A. Martin today in announcing highlights of the third annual Borah peace conference at the University of Idaho April 17-19.

Dr. Martin said the keynote address opening the conference would be given by Dr. Hans Morgenthau, University of Chicago. He will discuss "new efforts to achieve peace." A noted author on international law, Dr. Morgenthau is now a special consultant to the state department.

Traveled Widely

Dr. Morgenthau has traveled widely throughout Europe, and formerly taught in Switzerland, Germany and Spain.

Another address will be given by Dr. Harold Benjamin, dean of education, University of Maryland, Harvard lecturer and technical adviser for UNESCO. He will speak on "The role of higher education in an atomic age."

"Problems of international control of atomic and hydrogen weapons" will be discussed by Dr. Charles E. Martin, University of Washington. He is a member of the national commission to study the organization of peace. He also was a member of the Harvard international law research group, and participated in the conference of jurists and professors who drafted "the international law of the future."

Trade Future

Dr. J. B. Condliffe, University of California, chairman of the International Committee of Economists summoned by the food and agriculture organization (FAO) to deal with agricultural commodity problems, will speak on "next steps in international trade."

"What can religion contribute to world understandings?" will be the topic of an address by the Rev. John Brogden, Spokane, Unitarian minister and author of many articles on religion.

The conference is sponsored by the university's Borah foundation, established by S. O. Levinson, Chicago, with a $50,000 grant to honor the peace efforts of the late Sen. William E. Borah. For the second year Mrs. Borah is offering $100 for the best essay on peace written by a university student.

Three forums will follow each major address.

Held in Kansas

Confusing

BOISE, April 4 (AP)—The anti-liquor Allied Civic Forces got a $22 check from a Boise bar owner. But you can bet it wasn't a contribution.

It was all because a check for a subscription to "The Idaho Challenge," the ACF's newspaper, was sent to the Challenger, a local bar.

Lou Mardarieta, the tavern owner, cashed the check. He thought it was in payment of an old bar bill.

The error was uncovered and Madarieta made out another check to the ACF.

Cub Scouts Have Special Program

BURLEY, April 4—The Cub Scout pack, sponsored by the Home Builders class of the Christian church, gave a minstrel show Friday night at the church, with more than 50 Cubs and parents attending.

The Rev. Lloyd M. Belfour led group singing, and William J. Squance had charge of the program and presenting awards. Each group presented various acts in the minstrel show, with two dens from Burley and one from Albion taking part.

Bob Dick was interlocutor for the Burley boys and Brooks Aagard was leader of the Albion group. Accompanying the Albion boys to the pack meeting were Mrs. Ronald Reed, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Aagard and Mrs. Alvin Kempton.

Awards, made by Squance, were; Pat Price, Herb Ashby, Lynn Hunt, Vernon Jolley, Bobby Jolley and Danny Babcock, wolf badges; Warren Jensen, Mike Martin and Kenneth Fronk, wolf silver arrows; Laverne Jackson, Brooks Aagard, Jim Kempton, Monte Andrus, Jim and Bob Reed, bear badges; Donald Janak and Ernest Steelsmith, lion badges.

Mrs. Ferrol Jolley will become den mother of Mrs. James McCallister's den. Refreshments were served by the den mothers from Burley and Albion.

Drives Off Road

SHOSHONE, April 4 — Jack E. Gott, route 3, Twin Falls, ran off the road one mile south of Shoshone Sunday morning. He was driving a one and one-half ton bread truck and said he went to sleep.

He was uninjured and about $75 damage was done to the front underside of the truck. The accident was investigated by Sheriff Earl Clayton.

USDA Offers Payments for Storing Grain

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—The agriculture department has offered storage payments to farmers for holding about $700,000,000 worth of surplus grains on farms another 12 months.

The offer was made on 1949-crop wheat, corn, oats, barley, grain sorghum, rye and flaxseed now stored on farms under price support programs. It is designed to slow down the flow of price support grains off farms in excess of market needs and commercial storage facilities.

The storage rates offered were: Wheat and rye 10 to 11.5 cents a bushel depending on the area; oats 8 cents; barley 10 cents; flaxseed 11.5; grain sorghums 17.8 to 20.5 cents for 100 pounds on to 10 to 11.5 cents a bushel, depending upon the area; and corn 10 cents a bushel.

The quantities of these grains stored on farms under price support programs of March 1 included: Wheat 122,000,000 bushels; barley 20,000,000; oats 36,000,000; corn 267,000,000; rye 900,000; flaxseed 9,500,000, and grain sorghums 18,500,000.

Farmers not desiring to take up the offer may either pay off their loans and regain full title to their grain, or they may deliver the grain to the department in full payment of their price-support loan.

House Approves Revisions in Bill On Grazing Help

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—The house has accepted a conference committee's version of a national forest grazing bill which would make up to $750,000 a year from grazing fees available for range improvements.

The funds would have to be appropriated each year by congress. Under the bill as originally passed by the house, the special range improvement allocation would have been set up as a revolving fund.

Other senate amendments accepted by the house would give statutory recognition to grazing advisory boards and would specifically authorize the forest service to issue grazing permits for 10-year periods.

In the case of the advisory boards, state fish and game commissioners would be authorized to appointment representatives on boards to protect wildlife interests.

The conference report must now be adopted by the senate.

Citizenship List Given by School

CAREY, April 4 — Citizenship ratings for students of the Carey high school, as announced by Supt. O. K. McBride, are:

Very high, Merita Bernhardt, Cleone Baird and Wanda Payne.

Excellent, Gail Parke, Jr., Lois Mae Stocking, Marlene Stocking, Caroll Brown and Erma Peck.

High, Vivian Kirkland, Carmen Pyrah, Helen Smith, Bufaye Kirkland, Kenneth Payne.

Highway Hazard Changes; Melting Snow Flows Off

FAIRFIELD, April 4—Last week Camas county roads were blocked by snowdrifts. Today, there are new hazards—rain and melting snow are flooding and undermining the highways.

A hard rain for more than one hour Saturday evening and an hour of heavy wet snow Sunday are combining with the water from a deep layer of snow to cause the damage. Precipitation from the new storms amounted to .13 inch.

The rain and melting snow reduced the snow depth to 16 inches, sending state highway crews to work on drainage ditches in the Johnson hill vicinity. Culverts carrying the Malad river under the highway are full of slush.

Pioneer of Jerome Claimed by Death

JEROME, April 4 — Mrs. Clara E. Bobbitt, 65, pioneer resident of Jerome, died at 12:15 a.m. Monday at Caldwell where she had been the past two weeks undergoing medical treatment.

She was born on Jan. 4, 1885, at Williamsport, Pa., and was married to Norman D. Bobbitt on Oct. 13, 1900, at Stella, Nebr.

Survivors include her husband; one sister, Mae Stoltz, Jerome; two brothers, Will E. Stoltz, Silverton, Ore., and Samuel E. Stoltz, Winter Park, Fla., and seven nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Jerome Baptist church with the Rev. George Wick officiating. Burial will be made in Sunset Memorial park, Twin Falls, under the direction of the Wiley funeral home.

Bellevue's Mayor Gains Reelection

BELLEVUE, April 4—Mayor Sam McNary was reelected Monday night for his third consecutive term. Out of 93 votes cast, 89 were for Mayor McNary.

Other officers reelected are Aldermen—Otis Disbennett, Everett O'Donnell and Woodrow Watts.

There were three write-in candidates for mayor. Delbert Sims received one vote, Woodrow Watts two, and Sam Stitt, one. Other candidates for alderman were Sims, Jack O'Donnell, Don Sievers and Halbert Hatch.

In last year's municipal election only seven persons voted and three of them were election judges.

U. S. Potato Import Quota Cuts Granted

GENEVA, April 4 (AP)—The member states of the 1947 Geneva tariff agreement have authorized the United States to reduce the quota of potatoes imported at half the normal duty rate by 13,000,000 bushels during the next 12 months.

Under the 1947 agreement, the United States granted a tariff concession to Canada under which a quantity of potatoes by which United States home production was short of 350,000,000 bushels in any one year could be imported into the United States at a duty rate of 37.5 U. S. cents instead of the normal rate of 75 cents per 100 pounds. (One bushel equals 60 pounds.)

United States Delegate John Evans told a meeting of the members of the agreement that at the time this concession was negotiated in 1947, it was assumed that the United States demand for potatoes would not drop below 350,000,000 bushels per year.

"This calculation," Evans said, "has turned out to be at least temporarily over-optimistic, and domestic demand in the United States is now substantially below this figure."

PTA Leader Will Speak at Weiser

WEISER, April 4 (AP) — Between 300 and 500 delegates are expected to attend the annual state convention of the Federation of Women's clubs here May 3-5.

Mrs. Louis Warneth, president of the Weiser Outlook club, one of the host groups, said that one of the principal speakers will be Mrs. John E. Hayes of Twin Falls, national president of the Parent-Teachers association.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

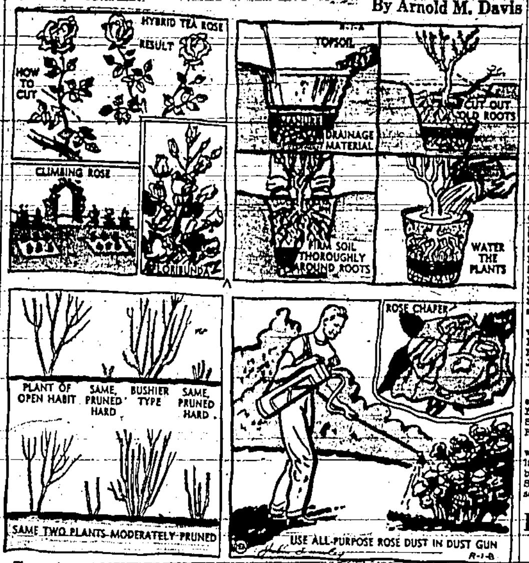
YOUR GARDEN

By Arnold M. Davis



The rose has aptly been called "queen of the garden." Its beauty is such that many people have declared that if they could have but one flower in their gardens it would be the rose. Each year new, and it seems, more beautiful and hardy roses are developed by nurserymen. Outstanding among these, of course, are the annual all-American selections. The winners for the 1950 are Fashion, a floribunda of coral pink overlaid with gold, a unique color among roses; Mission Bells, a salmon-colored hybrid tea; Capistrano, a hybrid tea of soft rose pink; and Sutter's Gold, a golden yellow hybrid tea with crimson flashing. Make your selection among modern roses. Buy only from reputable seedmen and green houses, after studying their catalogues for descriptions of color and growing requirement. The most generous all-season producer of flowers is the modern Floribunda. It is easier to grow than the hybrid tea. Beautify your fences, arbors, arches and background locations with climbing roses. In well-prepared soil with good drainage, plant roses about one-half inch deeper than they stood in the nursery row. Spread out the roots and cover with soil, press down firmly, water well. Prune roses early in the season before new growth starts, removing dead stalks and about one-third of the old ones and all weak branches. Light pruning gives many blooms. Heavy pruning produces specimens. Modern climbing roses should be pruned after they are through blooming because the flowers are born on old wood. Major pests that attack roses are aphids, black spot and rose chaffers or Japanese beetles. These can be controlled with a good all-purpose rose dust. Always dust before rains. Practice clean culture, pick old faded flowers and withered leaves and destroy by burning. During the blooming periods, top-dress with fertilizer at monthly intervals to promote healthy growth.

Last Rites Honor Pioneer Resident

HAGERMAN, April 4—Graveside services were held here for one of Hagerman's oldest pioneer residents, Albert H. Brailsford, Thursday afternoon. The Brailsford ranch which he established here in 1904 is one of the region's landmarks.

The Rev. Dr. G. L. Clark, Twin Falls, officiated at services in Twin Falls and here. Pallbearers were the late Mr. Brailsford's four sons, James Brailsford, Escondido, Calif.; Frederick, William and Robert Brailsford, all Hagerman; a son-in-law, Jess Rainbolt, Twin Falls, and Jay Farmer, Gooding.

Rupert Man Is Wed in Nuptial Rites in Kansas

RUPERT, April 4—Nuptial vows were exchanged by Donna Faye Chubb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Chubb of Great Bend, Kans., and James Brockie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brockie, Rupert, on March 24, at Great Bend.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. P. Crawford, of the Methodist Episcopal church before a background of white stock, yellow iris and jonquils, and candelabra of lighted tapers.

Organ selections were played by Mrs. H. J. Dodd, and Mrs. A. W. Herzog was the soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in white satin and her fingertip veil was held by a coronet of white daisies. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid from which fell streamers tied with freesias.

Elizabeth Thomas, maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow organdy with which she wore a hat of daisies.

Edwin Chubb and Lewis Chubb, brothers of the bride, were best man and usher, respectively.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The lace covered table was centered by the wedding cake, surrounded by freesias and ferns and crystal candelabra.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Colorado and has been employed in atomic research at Hanford works in Richland, Wash. Brockie is a graduate of the University of Idaho, with a degree in business administration. The newly married couple will make their home in Portland, Ore.

Twin Falls Pair Is Honored for Anniversary Day

Many relatives and friends called on Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smock, 1307 Sixth avenue east, Sunday afternoon to help them celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary. The couple came to Twin Falls immediately after their marriage in Spencer, Ia., March 29, 1910.

The celebration was arranged by Mrs. Donald Smock, a daughter-in-law, and Mrs. Albert Estling. Joanne Smock, granddaughter of the couple, was in charge of the guest book, and Mrs. P. R. Thompson and Mrs. Duncan Munn presided at the tea table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a crystal bowl of daffodils.

Floral arrangements of carnations and spring flowers and many gifts were presented to the couple by the guests. Their son, Donald Smock, was unable to attend the party, but Mrs. O. L. Athay, a daughter, and her son, Mike, were present from Pocatello. Other grandchildren are John Smock and Donald Smock, jr., both Twin Falls.

Smock is the Twin Falls electrical inspector.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Teachers find it difficult to persuade the authorities who represent the people of the community to spend money on the education of the younger children. It is always easier to get money for the older pupils. The high school is always grander, with more equipment and better teaching facilities and usually the teachers have higher salaries than those who teach the younger ones.

This way of thinking results in standing the educational edifice on its head instead of squarely on its feet, which may explain why we are having so much trouble with the adolescents. Children must be taught the rights and wrongs of things early; the earlier, the more lasting the instruction will be, and the more likely to be put into action. They must be taught the elements of learning early in their growth.

There is an immediacy about learning that many of our educational and political leaders know nothing about, or overlook if they do. There is a time in every child's life when he can learn a subject faster, with more understanding and appreciation, than at any other time. When we present the lessons at the right time we prevent backwardness and its costliness to the children concerned and to the community at large. That is why primary teachers must be skilled, experienced professionals, not half-trained or untrained people who must find a way of earning a living and think teaching little children an easy way. It is no easy way, and the community that permits any such process is cheating itself of its future.

Reading is one of the most important subjects in the curriculum. It must be taught in the right way, at the right time, or the pupils will not read as they should. A defect in reading means failure in the upper classes of the elementary schools and high schools, a very costly failure in terms of money and of pupils' progress. We hear of school systems organizing classes for remedial reading all the way from the third grade in the elementary grades to the high school. Whole classes of children deficient in reading. Imagine that. If those children had been properly taught in the first year of elementary school they would not have carried a reading deficiency up through the grades. That means: If the teachers in the first grades are highly trained, highly skilled professionals, they can teach children to read so that there will be only rare failures—those with physical or mental deficiencies—never whole classes.

The place of beginning for educational workers, authorities, parents of school children, is in the first years. Attend to that and the high school will not have so much trouble. And the cost will be less.

Does your child have trouble with spelling? Dr. Patri has written leaflet P-30, giving some valuable help to parents on how to instruct their children at home in this subject. To obtain a copy, send 6 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Jerome Bethel of Job's Daughters Has Queen's Ball

JEROME, April 4 — Job's Daughters, bethel No. 14, held their annual Queen's ball Friday night at the Moose hall. "Deep Purple" was the theme and was carried out in decorations.

A canopy formed the ceiling with streamers falling to the floor on the sides, making a lattice. The refreshment table was centered with the punch bowl flanked with lighted tapers which were woven with smilax interspersed with purple flowers. Baskets of flowers and potted plants were used about the hall.

Programs were distributed by Karen and Sharon Reynolds, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Reynolds. Both were gowned in white formals.

The grand march was led by Donna Bartholomew, honored queen, and her escort, Ray Lickley; Lynn Brown, senior princess, and Tommy Wilson, and LaNeta Hull, junior princess, and Stanford Rupert.

Patrons and patronesses attending the ball included Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bartholomew, Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Rigney, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hull and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Jensen. Other council members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Ambrose. Mrs. Ambrose is guardian of the group; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Stuart and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Rice.

In charge of arrangements were Miss Hull and Miss Brown, decorations; Joan Jensen, refreshments, and Joan Rigney, programs and invitations.

Picking Pitchers For Cowboys Becomes Problem

By GUS KELKER

BOYES SPRINGS, April 4 (Special)—Picking the regular pitchers for the 1950 edition of the Twin Falls Cowboys will be a real problem, Manager Wally Berger said Monday following another workout in the warm California sun.

Talking to Berger in his room in the Lincoln Inn after the workout he explained no less than 20 pitchers are in training at the present time and that "it will be a problem to pick out the ones to take with us because they are all good and all big."

Among the pitchers who are making outstanding progress under the watchful eye of Syl Johnson, Yankee instructor in that department, are Dale Hittle and Bud Relyea, both of the 1949 Cowboys. Without a doubt, both will be back in Twin Falls when the 1950 season opens.

Another standout, who comes to the club with a fine record last year, is Ivan Adromowitz. Last year, his first in pro ball, he won 17 and lost 12 with an earned run average of 2.39, strikeouts totaling 162.

Catching Is Strong

Berger also said the catching department is stacking up well and added "that position will be OK." Aside from Hal Danielson, who was with the club last year and who is in fine shape this season, there are Thomas McKelvey, former USC ace termed by the manager as "very goo," and Thomas Self, Los Angeles, a rookie.

Two of these three men will come to Twin Falls to start the season.

Concerning the outfield, Berger said the players are shaping up good and he added more help is coming in the shortstop and second base positions. Red Jessen will be on first base.

42 Hopefuls in Camp

There are now 42 hopefuls in the Cowboy camp at this resort center. Five boys were released Monday to return to their homes. Some of these are not quite ready for class C ball and some will be sent someplace else, it was pointed out.

Of these, two were thirdbasemen, one pitcher, shortstop and an outfielder.

Ideal training weather exists in the camp with daily temperatures running between 75 and 80 degrees. Berger said one day the mercury went to 85 above.

"With weather like this, the players will get into real shape," Berger said.

Practice Schedule

At the same time Berger announced a schedule of practice games starting Tuesday with Santa Rosa Junior college, the Stockton Ports at Stockton Thursday night and Klamath Falls at Lodi Friday night. Lodi being Hittle's home town, he will start the game, Berger says.

On Sunday, the Cowboys will play the Moffett Maticas, considered the fastest semi-pro team in the San Francisco area. On April 11, they invade Berkeley for a game with the University of California.

Berger said he was "tickled to death" to be coming back to Idaho where he got his start in pro ball.

Coast League Teams Start Second Week

By The Associated Press

The second round of the Pacific Coast league pennant chase opens Tuesday.

Last week's home teams become the visitors, with San Diego at Los Angeles, Hollywood at Seattle, Sacramento at San Francisco and Oakland at Portland.

The cellar dwellers of 1949, Los Angeles' rejuvenated Angels, will call on Herman Besse, ex-Seattle leftie, against the power laden Padres from the Border city. Manager Del Baker of San Diego said he will shoot Bob Savage at the Angels, who are tied with Hollywood for first place.

Boss Bill Kelly of Los Angeles said he will toss lefties at San Diego all week, with Jack Kraus taking the hill Wednesday night.

Manager Fred Haney's Hollywood Stars enplaned for Seattle with the idea of shooting ace Pinky Woods at the Rainiers. Guy Fletcher will hurl for Seattle and Gov. Arthur B. Langlie and Seattle Mayor William F. Devin will be on hand. The estimated crowd is 14,000.

A crowd of 18,000 is anticipated in San Francisco, where the Seals play host to Sacramento. President Paul Fagan of the Seals plans to give away 18,000 bags of peanuts, which represents a complete capitulation to the storm of protest that greeted his short-lived plan to ban goobers at the San Francisco park.

Bill Evans will hurl for the Sacs, and Con Dempsey for the Seals.

Charles (Red) Adams is going to hurl for Portland against Oakland. The teams will play a second game at 8 p.m., when Jack Creek is to toss for the Beavers. Oakland's pitching selections had not been made by Manager Charles Dressen.

Vandal Gridders Open Spring Practice Sessions

MOSCOW, April 4 (AP)—The University of Idaho football Vandals this afternoon held their first of the 30 spring practice sessions permitted under Pacific Coast conference regulations.

All of the twenty-four returning lettermen reported except two of the three co-captains elected last Saturday.

Missing were John Brogan, Coeur d'Alene, and Vern Baxter, Salinas, Calif. Brogan is at home because of illness in his family. A mild touch of flu kept Baxter from taking part.

The captain on the field today was Marvin Beguhl, Caldwell.

Date Slated for All-Star Contest

NAMPA, April 4 (AP)—The first annual all-star Idaho high school basketball game will be held in Nampa Aug. 3, Dellinger, Jerome, president of the Idaho Coaches association, has announced.

The fourth annual all-star football game will be held in Boise Aug. 4 at the conclusion of the coaching clinic starting July 31.

Players from districts one, two and three will comprise the western all-stars and those from districts four, five and six will make up the eastern team.

Grapplers Await Battle Royal

A $200 cash prize and a gold cup awaits the winner of Wednesday's battle royal on the weekly wrestling card presented by the Twin Falls VFW. Seven grapplers will enter the ring at 8:30 p. m. in the battle.

The first man pinned will referee the rest of the matches. The next two out will grapple in the preliminary, the next two in a semi-final and the final pair in the main event. The winner of the main event gets the added prizes.

Grapplers taking part in the wrestling novelty will include Karl Grey, Al Szasz, Eddie Williams, Dale Haddock, Buzz Jones, Steve Karas and Dean Anderson.

Success of Yankees Depends on Two Joes

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 4 (AP)—The success of the New York Yankees depends upon a couple of Joes—Joe DiMaggio and Joe Page.

If the world champions are to repeat their 1949 triumph, Manager Casey Stengel must have DiMaggio's services for the full season. Also, Page must duplicate his work of last year when he made 60 relief appearances, was credited with 13 victories and saved 15 others.

A sick and injured DiMaggio like the one who played in but 70 games last year, and a Page who was a slop in '48 after his tremendous output in the pennant year of '47, could spell ruin for the Yankees.

DiMaggio, with his devastating bat and his flawless style afield, can carry the attack and steady the Yankees' mediocre outfield. He did just that upon his return last year after missing the first 65 games. In a halfseason's work, he blasted 14 homeruns and drove in 67 runs. In his exhibition outings this spring, he's picked up where he left off last fall.

But DiMaggio is past 35. Can he play a full season? Perhaps those heel spurs will return to plague him again. Page is 32. Can his rubber arm continue to stand the wear and tear of toil nearly every other day?

It is definitely up to the southpaw relief artist to take the heat off Stengel's unsteady pitching. Vic Raschi won 21 games last year, but weakened in the stretch drive. Allie Reynolds won 17 but pitched only four complete games. Fifteen-game winner, Ed Lopat defeated only certain clubs and Tommy Byrne, another 15-game winner, was erratic. Incidentally, all are past 30 as are right hander Fred Sanford and Page.

As a matter of fact, the Yankees are an old team—and therefore prone to injury. Tommy Henrich and Phil Rizzuto, the most valuable Yanks, next to DiMaggio and Page, are 34 and 31, respectively. Johnny Mize is 37, John Lindell, 33, Billy Johnson, 31 and George Stirnweiss, 30.

The Yankees of 1949 overcame an unprecedented number of injuries to win the American league flag from the Red Sox by one game. Unless fate is particularly cruel, the Yanks can't possibly hit another such cycle of ailments.

COOPER COMES THROUGH

TAMPA, Fla., April 4 (AP)—The veteran Walker Cooper hit a pinch hit homerun in the last of the eighth yesterday to give the Cincinnati Reds a 6-5 victory over the world champion New York Yankees. It was the final Florida exhibition tilt for the Reds.

PGA Fires George Schneiter as Revolt in Golf World Continues

CHICAGO, April 4 (AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association of America Monday night announced that George Schneiter, Ogden, Utah, had been fired as PGA tournament bureau manager. Joe Novak, PGA president, said that Schneiter's "immediate" dismissal has no connection with a reported revolt of star players against tournament practices.

The announcement of Schneiter's dismissal followed a nine-hour conference by PGA officials at which Schneiter had appeared by a summons sent last Wednesday.

Schneiter had met with top-ranked professional players in a meeting at Wilmington, N. C., last Thursday night at which it was reported the players threatened to withdraw from the PGA unless they were given control of tournament policy.

Had Committee's OK

Novak said that Schneiter's dismissal was done with the authority of the PGA's executive committee.

Novak's statement to the press said, "in taking this action, the association's tournament committee took the position that Schneiter had failed to carry out his duties in a manner consistent with the rules and policies of the PGA or with the interests of its membership."

Schneiter had become the tournament bureau manager in 1946, succeeding Freddie Corcoran.

Schneiter said that he felt he had appeared at the meeting simply in the capacity of "carrying out my duties in the best way possible." He had no other immediate comment, except to say that in order to achieve the program sought by the players there should be a meeting of the PGA officials and the players.

Not Satisfactory Answer

Schneiter said his dismissal was "not a satisfactory answer to the problems of the players."

He declared it was necessary to have a meeting between the two groups—the PGA officials and the players.

Novak said that the search for a successor to Schneiter as tournament bureau manager was being conducted on an immediate basis, but he did not mention any prospective candidates.

The PGA president said an attempt would be made to continue discussions with the players on their demand for stronger tournament control at the masters' tournament. The masters' meet starts at Augusta, Ga., Thursday and runs through Sunday.

Canceled in Protest

Novak also said his tournament committee had not acted on a request for assurance that the 1950 PGA tournament would be held as scheduled at Columbus, O., June 20-27. Mayor James A. Rhodes earlier had sent a telegram to the PGA, declaring that until the reported split in the organization had been healed, the sponsor's plans for the PGA meet had been canceled.

Schneiter, himself a consistenly good golfer, said he propably would continue as a tournament player despite his discharge as tournament bureau manager.

NCAA Opens Session To Air Sanity Code

CHICAGO, April 4 (AP)—Amid reports that two more schools have stubbed their toes on the sanity code, the NCAA Tuesday opened a three-day session in which the code will get a thorough inspection. When the NCAA's executive committee and commissioners of 19 affiliated conferences wind up their diagnosis, the prescription may be for a modified code next year.

Associated Press Columnist Hugh Fullerton Monday uncorked the "hot rumor" that the University of South Carolina and Clemson were the latest to run afoul the code.

(Seven schools were cited as code violators at the NCAA convention in New York last January, but an attempt to vote them out of membership failed.)

An NCAA spokesman here declined comment on the Fullerton report, declaring that such information can come only from the NCAA constitutional compliance committee of which Clarence Houston of Tufts is chairman.

The meeting here opens with a business session by the NCAA's executive committee. Items of business may include selection of next year's NCAA basketball and boxing tourney sites and dates.

Wednesday and Thursday, the executive committee and the commissioners will huddle on the present code and what, if anything, should be done about it.

The code mainly restricts financial aid for athletes to tuition on the basis of need. The Southern, Southeastern conferences contend that the code is a sham and that board for athletes also should be included.

Burgess Hurls Shoshone to No-Hit Victory

SHOSHONE, April 4—Cliff Burgess, picking up where he left off last season, hurled the Shoshone Indians to a no-hit, no-run 6-0 victory over the Dietrich Devils in the first league contest of the season for both teams.

Burgess, hurling two no-hitters last year, helped lead the Indians to the district class B baseball championship. He won three and lost one in contests last season.

Coach Bob Sherman's club pushed its initial run across the plate on the opening inning and added singletons in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth. Shoshone collected only four hits off the slants of Edwards and Bill Garrett, Dietrich hurlers.

Wildness proved the undoing of the Dietrich mound staff. Edwards walked six men and hit four with pitched balls. Burgess proved the master by fanning 17 Shoshone men, while walking three. Edwards struckout 10 Shoshone battsmen.

All of Shoshone's hits were singles.

Cattle—Steady to 25 cents higher; top $32.00.

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—A late selling blast aimed at radio-television stocks unsettled the entire stock market today.

At the final bell gains and losses were thoroughly scrambled. Changes were mostly under a point.

During the day the market had made a little progress despite heavy profit taking sales.

Turnover was heavy from start to finish, with the day's business adding up to around 2,000,000 shares. Rapid-fire opening trade accounted for a good share of the volume.

Chrysler Corp., was one of the few stocks consistently under pressure. At the worst the price dropped more than a point.

Higher prices were paid most of the time for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Vultee, Northern Pacific, Barnsdall Oil and U. S. Gypsum.

On the losing side were Zenith Radio, International Telephone, Studebaker, Santa Fe, Paramount Pictures and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Grain

CHICAGO, April 4 (AP)—A government report of unfavorable crop conditions pushed prices higher today at the board of trade; the weekly government weather report said that the dry section in the southwest is urgently in need of moisture, and that green bugs are causing damage in much of Texas and Oklahoma.

The report also said that preparation for the soil for corn and oats is being delayed. The result was a renewed flurry of buying which sent all deliveries of oats to new seasonal highs with May and July corn.

At the finish wheat was 1½ to 2¾ higher than yesterday's close, May 2.24⅝-½; corn was 1⅛ to 1⅝ higher, May 1.36⅞; oats were 1⅝ to 2¼ higher, May 76¼-⅜; rye was 1⅜ to 1⅞ higher, May 1.35¼-½; soybeans were 1¼ to 1⅝ higher, May 2.64⅝-½, and lard was 2 cents per 100 higher to 3 cents lower, May 11.22.

Minor Fire

RICHFIELD, April 4—A fire caused minor damage to the E. J. Dennis residence at 8:30 p.m. Monday. The blaze was attributed to a defective flue, and was discovered only after Mrs. Dennis smelled smoke.

The blaze area could not be found until the wall surrounding the living room stovepipe blackened; then the volunteer fire department was called.

Damage was limited to the wall and a part of the attic.

Child Injured

RICHFIELD, April 4—Kathleen Coffman, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Coffman, lost the end of the little finger on her right hand Sunday when a door was closed on it. She was taken to Gooding for treatment and returned home that night. The accident occurred at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Argus Coffman, Shoshone.

Bridges Guilty On 3 Counts; Jurors Decree

ized and swore under oath he was not and never had been a red.

Pivotal witnesses were John (Shoes) Schomaker, a burly ex-longshoreman, and Mervyn Rathborne, once secretary-treasurer of the state CIO and a former close friend and associate of Bridges.

"Sunday Punch" Witness

Schomaker was called the "Sunday punch" witness by the prosecution and the defense conceded the entire case rested on his testimony.

He said he, with another longshoreman named Bruce B. Jones, met Bridges in a cafe on the San Francisco waterfront in 1933. They talked about Bridges joining the party. Schomaker left for a few minutes. When he returned, he said, he saw a Communist party application blank signed by Harry Bridges.

"Card-Carrying" Red

Schomaker called Bridges a "card-carrying, dues-paying" communist and said he attended numerous party "fraction" meetings with him.

Rathborne, admitted communist for 12 years, said he went to more than 40 meetings of the party with Bridges, once toured communist headquarters in New York with the longshore chief and a high-ranking red told him Bridges was a member of the national committee, an important policy-making group in the party.

Two-Story House Near Hospital Is Offered for Sale

A two-story frame house, located in the middle of what will be the driveway to the new Twin Falls county hospital, will be offered for sale at public auction at 10 a.m. April 10 on the hospital grounds, according to the Twin Falls county commissioners.

The home, used as a resident by Everet Moody, former hospital superintendent, must be moved by the purchaser. James Clifford McGillvray, present superintendent, does not use the building. The house is county property.

The home has a living room, dining room, kitchen, bathroom, two small bedrooms downstairs and a large and a medium sized bedroom upstairs. It is appraised at $2,500. County commissioners have the right to reject all bids. The building may be inspected at any time.

Trailer Is Cause For Court Action

Return of a four-wheeled trailer or $2,000 and an additional $3,250 damages are sought in a civil complaint filed Tuesday in district court by Neal Northrup, Twin Falls, against Carl Billings and Harold Billings.

Northrup claims he loaned the trailer to the defendants on Feb. 15 for seven days. They refused to return it and claim ownership, Northrup alleges. He wants either the trailer or $2,000 payment for it, $2,000 for loss of use of the trailer for four weeks, $1,000 for securing substitute property and $250 depreciation on the trailer.

Robert N. W. Balleisen is attorney for Northrup.

Local Workman's Claim Is Rejected

BOISE, April 4 (AP)—The state supreme court today reversed and dismissed an industrial accident board decision awarding workmen's compensation claims to Irvin Lail.

Lail had been employed by Clyde Bishop and G. T. Newcomb at the B and N Cash Lumber company in Twin Falls April 14, 1949, when he received injuries necessitating amputation of his left thumb and index finger.

The state supreme court ruled that Lail's employment was "casual" and that he was not entitled to benefits.

Pair Faces Trial In District Court

BUHL, April 4—Esther Winkler, 18, and Joan Henry, 20, both Twin Falls, this morning waived preliminary hearing when they appeared before Justice of the Peace C. E. Rudy on charges of grand larceny in the form of shoplifting.

They were bound over to district court under bonds of $2,000 each. Their bonds have been posted. Formerly, only Miss Henry was free under bond. The state was represented in this morning's action by Prosecuting Attorney Graydon W. Smith.

Dean Halverson, Twin Falls, charges his wife, Mrs. Constance Halverson, Omaha, Nebr., with desertion in a divorce complaint filed Tuesday in district court.

He alleges his wife deserted him March 29, 1947. Community property and children aren't involved in the suit. They were married May 6, 1945, in Twin Falls.

J. H. Blandford is attorney for the husband.

Students Provide Entertainment at Rotary Luncheon

Entertainment for the weekly luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Rotary club Tuesday at the Park hotel was furnished by talented students from Twin Falls high school.

Merlin Bagley, one of the outstanding young vocalists of the state, sang two solos, accompanied by Betts Cronenberger. He was introduced by Principal John Platt.

Kay Larsen, recent first-place winner in the Future Farmers of America state oratorical contest and Idaho's entry in the forthcoming regional contest, gave his oration on "Water—Friend or enemy." He was introduced by Ralph Edwards, agricultural instructor.

Visiting Rotarians at the luncheon included Charles Walteroth, Jerome; G. Wilson, Greeley, Colo. John C. Bishop was introduced as a new member of the club and Kenneth Burrie was introduced by Frank McIntyre.

company, was put under cross-examination by Robert E. Quirk, chief counsel for the D & RGW. He agreed an expansion of the Ogden yards would be "helpful."

The UP maintains further expansion of the Ogden yards is virtually impossible. Eden testified to that effect yesterday.

D & RGW Case Ended

The UP began its counter-offensive yesterday afternoon after the D & RGW wound up presentation of its case with a group of five supporting witnesses. A hearing in Salt Lake City began the D & RGW's claim.

First witness for Union Pacific was Operations Vice President Perry J. Lynch, Omaha. He testified the UP, by vast expenditures, now has a direct and a system adequate to move the present or foreseeable volume of traffic expeditiously, safely and economically.

Warns of Cuts

"Any prospective reduction or diversion of traffic would leave upon the hands of the Union Pacific a giant plant, the expense of which could not be justified by the deducted business, and a progressive program of retirements would necessarily result," Lynch said.

"This is unthinkable, if for no other reason than the need for this tremendous transportation facility in promoting the interests of national economy and national defense."

Valley Counts 54 Cases of Disease

Fifty-four new cases of notifiable disease were reported in Magic Valley for the week ending April 3, according to the weekly report of the state health department.

The outbreak of influenza in Elmore county continued for the second week as the major contributor to the large number of diseases. The county reported 10 cases of the disease along with six of streptococcic throat, three of mumps and one each of cancer and ringworm.

Lincoln county reported seven new disease cases, all rheumatic fever. Blaine county reported one case of chicken pox and Camas county reported one case of cancer. Gooding county, Minidoka and Jerome county also reported one case of cancer each.

The city of Twin Falls reported three cases of cancer, two of chicken pox and one of syphilis. The remainder of Twin Falls county reported four cases of cancer and one each of chicken pox and pink eye.

City Manager Bid Is Given in Boise

BOISE, April 4 (AP)—A resolution calling for adoption of a city manager form of government has been presented the Boise city council by Councilman Carl Burt.

Burt estimated the city manager form of government would save Boise $50,000 a year.

The council took no action on the resolution, but considered it for first reading.

Chapter Aids Proposal for Chest X-Rays

BURLEY, April 4—The Cassia county chapter of Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis association met Friday afternoon for a business session in which plans were made to vote funds toward the purchase of the mobile unit to be used for the Idaho mass chest X-ray project.

Mrs. Lloyd Hanks presided, and the executive committee voted to pledge $200 toward the project. To date, more than $5,800 has been pledged from 17 county tuberculosis associations.

Mobile Unit Described

The bus-type ambulatory unit will contain an X-ray machine, with camera attachment for taking 70 mm. stereo films, including equipment for processing the films. It is estimated that the total cost will approximate $28,000.

The special session of Idaho legislature appropriated $35,000 for the inauguration of a mass chest X-ray program in Idaho by the state department of public health. The money will be used for salaries and travel expenses of personnel and for operating expenses incidental to the program for the year beginning July 1, 1950.

Receiving Ward

The Gooding Memorial hospital has a 10-bed unit to take care of patients awaiting admission to the State Tuberculosis hospital. Dr. K. A. Tyler, medical director of the state hospital, is supervising the care of patients in this unit, in addition to his duties at the sanatorium.

Mrs. Hanks reported figures from the division of vital statistics, state department of public health, show 232 new tuberculosis cases were diagnosed and reported in 1948. She also announced new educational materials are available for club programs or other groups desiring them.

Pamphlets Available

Aside from the films available, there are pamphlets for distribution and the local unit is ready to assist any group in planning educational programs.

Mrs. Hanks said seal sale representatives would be named for several communities. She also reported that several members will attend the annual meeting of Idaho Public Health association at McCall June 5 and 6.

"Razing Bee" Is Staged at Albion

ALBION, April 4 — Local LDS ward members, Legionnaries, Jaycees, Orangers, Boy Scouts, SICE students and faculty members joined Saturday at a "razing bee" at the old Albion ward church, at the invitation of Bishop Joseph Gillette. Ray Carlson was in charge of the work.

Purpose of the event was completion of the razing of the old church to obtain all salvageable materials for use in the new LDS institute of religion, high school seminary and ward chapel for which a contract was let last week.

As is the custom at "bees" a hot meal was served at noon by the Relief society, to some 80 workers. About 75 men were working during the afternoon and more than that worked during the morning. A rain and windstorm at 3:25 p.m. didn't deter the workers.

At that time the roof had been removed and workers were about one-half way down on the brickwork. At 5:30 p.m., when work ended, the brick walls were standing about four feet high. Carlson estimated another two Saturdays will be needed to complete the task.

Americans eat about 4.2 pounds of spinach, farm weight, per capita in a year.

2 Carey Juniors To Attend 'State'

CAREY, April 4—Cleone Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Baird, and Hannah Albrethsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Albrethsen, have been chosen as delegates to attend the annual Girls' state sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary.

The event will be held on the College of Idaho campus at Caldwell in June. Alternates from Carey are Marlene Stocking, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stocking, and Jennie Ralls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ralls.

Miss Baird, a junior, was selected for her high scholarship and citizenship rating. She is active in sports, and has held class and student body offices. Miss Albrethsen, also a junior, has similar qualifications and is active in school government.

'Blue Card' Plan Operation OK'd In Wendell Area

WENDELL, April 4—Operation of the "blue card" system again is in effect here following a decision of the Chamber of Commerce.

Under provisions of the plan all solicitors are required to receive approval of the chamber before canvassing city business or private homes.

Chamber officials pointed out the success of the system depends on cooperation given by residents and businessmen. Local solicitors are not required to have the blue cards, but may procure them if they desire.

Residents are urged to require showing of the blue cards by any sales people contacting them.
